WHERE DOomed MEET DEATH BY LETHAL GAS

Authorities seem divided in their opinion as to the humaneness of Nevada's new method of meeting out capital punishment to murderers—namely death by lethal gas. The Nevada State Penitentiary officials who recently carried out the execution by gas of Gee Jon, Chinese slayer, however, maintain that it is more humane than either hanging or electrocution.

In the above photograph, you see the exterior and the interior of Nevada's new death house as constructed in the penitentiary yard at Carson City and in which Gee Jon met his death. The chimney shown on the house—in the upper picture—is arranged as a vent to let the poison fumes escape. From the window in the foreground, the witnesses watched the legal killing.

Baintree Sidelights

"God grant us to include with two eyes."—Proverb of Araby.

According to press reports Mr. Ford has $250,000 laid away in an odd count. Wonder if Ebery would let us count it just to make sure.

Billy Lyons finished seedling 500 acres of wheat on the 6th.

When we were passing a neighbor's place the other day, the mistress of the house asked us if we cared for Strawberry shortcake. On asking her in reply if it was liked mine, she set before us a dish that was enough to make old Doc Tanner rise in his night robe. Oh juicy berries, whipped cream, and a biscuit as light as a feather. Oh, boy! What a chance from paradise. The guy that said that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach knew a lot about human beings. Yes, you know it.

When we wanted to cross a fence five years ago, we'd put our hand on a post and go over the top. Bye and bye we got into the habit of crawling through the middle wire. One day, however, after we had got through in safety, we realized that we had some undergrowth the whole outfit, and we got shuffling. Now, we don't mind getting old as long as old age doesn't kill us, but darn it, a fellow hates to hear the kids say: "Here's that old guy coming."

The "Boracuts" turned out last week-end for a little warming up. Yes sir, the boys are doing fine, and when you come out for the opening game you'll wonder where all the talent came from. "Wad some power the glitz give us, to see ourselves as there are we," Burns.

The following is an extract from the U.P.A. of May 1st, and is portion of lecture entitled "Canada of Tomorrow" delivered before the Clyde U.P.A. by Prof. E. A. Townsend, of the University of Alberta. "In nearly every district, if you want to meet the most ignorant men of the district, ask for the school trustees. How can you get, or how can you expect same, inefficient leadership, or government of the people by the people when the people are such an ignorant, stupid, slightly educated lot?" Because we are all the professor says, we cannot answer the question, but perhaps he will give us some information himself. Pardon, old dear, where did you get your slack jaw and philosophy. From books? Sure, we thought so. But you never got it from Walter Scott, who loved fair play. We know that you didn't get it from Abe Lincoln who believed in the goodness of the common man. Robt. Burns didn't interest you or you would understand that the most beautiful lives are lived in the most humble homes. Is it possible that you have a leaning towards Voltaire, who was a knacker of everything that had any good in it? Does your learned mind follow Mirabeau, who told the world how to live in peace, but who wrecked the lives of his wife and family? Perhaps you have a fellow feeling for Dean Swift, who hated every member of a certain race because one of them defecated him at his own rented luncheon. Throw your kind how literature in the ducks, dear guy, and read of the poems of Matt and Jeff. When you feel another spasm coming on, eat one of the prime diet and stop showing trustees at U.P.A. meetings. Remember that you are getting a fat income for your services, while the much abused trustee never gets anything except the likes that Irishmen know on their own. Even if it does hurt you, get rid of your bump of knowledge. For some day you have got to pass in your time check, and a pretty wise old bird once told us there was a place in purgatory for chronic knockers. No, professor, you can't ride our goat, but some time when you deliver a real worthwhile lecture in Baintree, we'll give you a nice ride on our new bicycle. Bye, bye, old top.

It's darned dry fellows. How would you like a week's rain and a barrel or six per cent?

An Irishman was a witness in an important shooting affray. The magistrate asked Pat if he had seen the shot fired. "No," said Pat. "But I heard it." "Step down, my man," said his honor, "hearing isn't evidence in this court. As the Irishman turned away he broke into a fit of laughter. The rate old gentleman called him back and asked if he wanted a term in prison for laughing in court. "Did you see me," asked Pat? "No," said the magistrate. "But I heard you." "Well," said the son of old Ireland, "hearing isn't evidence in this court."

Golf Notes

Negotiations are under way, we understand, for the purchase of the golf links, over which Strathmore golfers have been allowed, through the courtesy of the C.P.R., to play for the last two seasons.

Situated as this land is, within walking distance of any part of town, and with many natural features suitable as hazards. It is the most desirable piece of land in sight for the purpose, and we trust that the Golf Club will be lucky enough to secure it.

A meeting of the Associate Lady Golfers will be held in the Town Hall

Business Prospects

"That Canada can look forward to a normal business year, but where extra effort is put forward extra business will be the reward."

Such is information gleaned from remarks of executives and officials of the First Month Company of Canada, Ltd., in recent interviews.

Mr. W. R. Campbell, vice-president and treasurer of the company, together with Mr. H. S. Pritchard, sales manager, and Mr. J. W. Elliott, service manager, have been addressing a series of dealers' conventions held in the principal cities of the Dominion. Mr. H. C. French, Assistant Sales Manager, has been doing similar sales work in Australia.

As to the West, Mr. Pritchard said, "We are looking for one of the biggest years in the motor business in Western Canada, and present indications point to fulfillment of our hopes. If one visited the West at present, and had been through the country a year ago, the greatest change for the better in all lines of business activity would be in those apparent to the most casual observer."

Mr. French speaking of the opportunities in Australia, said: "Australia is a country with which Canada should be more familiar. Its buying power offers a market for Canadian manufacturers that is simply splendid."

Fire Danger

Editor, Strathmore Standard.

Dear Sir:

Re the numerous setting of fires in the town, which, I think, calls for a few forceful remarks, especially at this time of the year when so many people are burning rubbish, etc. I have made a report of several of these during the past week, but no notice has been taken. Possibly some day, some night, those whose business it is to look after these things, will wake up and take notice.

The question of fire came up at the last council meeting; the mayor remarking that ninety per cent. of fires were caused through carelessness.

We all, I think, realize this to be the case, but what are we doing to check this carelessness? Absolutely nothing.

The people of the town, as a rule, I think, are not aware that the fire by-laws prohibit the setting of fire with in one hundred feet of a building, and yet this kind of thing is allowed to go on until some big disaster happens, and then, maybe, as before mentioned, we may wake up and take notice.

A conviction and fine in one or two cases would possibly be a good thing. It would at any rate show these careless people that this kind of thing would not be tolerated.

Thanking you, I remain,

Respectfully yours,

J. SAUNDERS

Liquor Act

in Operation

At the beginning of this week the new Provincial Liquor Control Act comes into operation. From now on it is legal to buy and drink liquor for private purposes under certain conditions.

The success of the new Act depends on its observance by the public. It is a fair attempt to carry into effect the mandate of the people, as expressed in the plebiscite last November. If the privileges given under the Act are abused, there is no doubt that it will be repealed within a couple of years by an amended prohibition law, which would be the only alternative.

It is therefore the duty of those who wish to avoid summary legislation with its restriction of liberty, to do all in their power to see that the new Act is observed. The penalties for infractions are severe, but the law will be upheld if the people are helped. It is their duty to give information to the officers of the law when they see or hear of any infractions.

It will, of course, take some time to remedy the abuses that have grown up under the former system, but it can be done.

There are some complaints already that the price charged for whiskies, etc., are too high, but those who wish to drink whisky and so forth should remember that these are luxuries, when used for beverage purposes, and those who wish to purchase luxuries should be prepared to pay the government taxes on same. It is better to pay taxes on luxuries than on articles of necessity or commerce.

It seems to be the idea of the Act to provide adequate facilities for the sale of beer and other drinks of low alcoholic content. The restrictions on the sale and consumption of beer are not at all severe, and the facilities for obtaining it will apparently be even more numerous than in the days of the bar.

The new Act is intended as a measure to promote temperance. The Act that it supersedes was designed to enforce prohibition, and the reason it was abandoned was because it proved impossible to enforce, and against the wishes of the majority of the people. The Legislature, at the mandate of the plebiscite, exceeded the instructions given them by the electors in the 1915 plebiscite for the closing of the bars.

The success of the new act will lie in its not being abused, either by those who take advantage of its privileges, or by intemperance, however, etc., who are given special privileges under its provisions.

There has been quite a lot of work done and being done on the tennis courts, and they will certainly be in great shape for the tennis enthusiasts this year. Best courts in the country.

It is expected that the Rockyford ball team will play Fernie at Calgary on May 20th and 21st. Fernie having challenged the local boys for the bowery cup.

Everybody is doing it. What? Trying to play golf. A good crowd was out on the local golf links, about two miles northwest of town, on Sunday, and enjoyed themselves. If you have not started yet, get a set of golf clubs at the drug store and get busy. We are all amateurs at the game yet, but in a short time we will be sending out challenges to other clubs.

About forty applications to come in yet from the telephone subscribers. Get busy then if you want connection by June 1st, 1924.

Tennis fees are due, and should be paid before commencing to play. Rockyford Masonic Lodge will hold their regular meeting on Thursday of this week. A number of the brethren visited Carbon Lodge on Tuesday night.

The baseball season will open with a bang on Victoria Day, the 24th, when Calgary Athletics will play a doubleheader with Rockyford. A big dance will be held in the evening to the strains of Mrs. Myers' orchestra.

The tennis club are holding a dance in McCreas' Hall on June 2nd, and are making every preparation to give everyone a real good time. Bowness Park Orchestra are providing the music.

Home Nursing

In accordance with the decision of the Central Council of the Canadian Red Cross to take further steps to assist the women of Canada to gain a more extended knowledge of Home Nursing and Home Hygiene. The Alberta Division makes the following announcement:

The instruction given in Home Nursing and Hygiene by the Red Cross is for the purpose of enabling women to better care for their sick ones at home and to carry out more intelligently the doctor's instructions in cases of serious illness. It must be clearly understood that it is not intended to qualify students to practice for remuneration, all students should be impressed with the necessity of obtaining properly qualified medical and nursing aid for serious illness.

Any group of women wishing to take these classes should communicate with the local Red Cross Society Secretary, or write direct to the Provincial office, Beveridge Building, Calgary.

Rosebud Notes

The new student minister, Mr. Walker, of Princeton University, conducted the services in Rosebud church on Sunday last and was greeted with a splendid congregation. The people of the district are endeavoring to make Mr. Walker's visit here as pleasant as possible, and it is hoped that he will thoroughly enjoy his summer's work.

News has been received that Miss Copp is seriously ill at her home in Calgary. During Miss Copp's illness Miss George Krone is teaching her class in Rosebud school.

Saturday night's dance drew quite a gathering of young people to the hall, and everyone there appeared to be having a good time. These dances should be very popular as the hours are not long, and the music is exceptionally good. There will be another dance in the hall on Saturday evening next.

There was a splendid attendance at the meeting of the U.F.W.A. which was held in the Rosebud Church on Saturday evening last. After the usual business was concluded the ladies discussed plans for the big Farmers' Dance to be held in the hall on May 22nd next. The ladies are in charge of the lunch, which will be a good one. Any of the ladies in the community who would care to send a cake may be assured that it will be very much appreciated.

Announce Third Annual Tour To the Coast

Special Train from Winnipeg. Stops Made at Various Points of Interest.

PERSONALLY CONDUCTED

This tour, which will be interesting to the holiday maker and of great educational value to the student and to the teacher, offers an unusual opportunity for seeing, under the most favorable conditions, the Canadian Rockies, including Jasper National Park, and the Pacific Coast.

The special train, operated in connection with this tour and consisting of modern sleeping car equipment, dining car and radio observation car, will leave Winnipeg, July 2nd. After stopping at various points of interest, the train will arrive at Prince Rupert on July 10th. At this latter point the party will embark on one of the passenger steamships of the Canadian National Pacific Coast service for a cruise of 250 miles through the famous "Inside Passage" to Vancouver. While the tour terminates at Vancouver, those who desire to make a trip to Victoria, may have their tickets read Victoria as their destination without any additional cost.

The local agent of the Canadian National Railways will be pleased to give you full particulars of this tour, including the cost, choice of routes returning, etc.

Smilin' Charlie Says —

Th' feller with a beam in his own eye ain't gonna worry much about th' mote in his neighbors' eye —

Wants to Be Serious

Y ES! Ben Turpin is persistently cross-eyed, though his feet are not the misanthropes they appear when made up for the screen. Quebecers who discovered this when he and Mrs. Turpin stayed at the Chateau Frontenac recently were also surprised to find them a most retiring, modest, quietly dressed and devoted couple, quite unlike the movie people one imagines.

The manner in which Mr. Turpin has risen supremely over the handicap of those famous eyes is an example of the courageous turning of an impediment to good account. "I love serious acting," said Mr. Turpin, when interviewed on the Canadian Pacific en route to Montreal, "and long to play tragic roles, but, of course, I haven't the looks. So I do the next best thing—I make people laugh. Moreover, it's a pretty hard job being funny all the time. Often I feel more like crying. If I've got to make 'em laugh, my head will be chopped off."

Strathmore Steps Out In Musical Progress

Strathmore, this year takes another step in the musical life, the Canadian Academy of Music having decided to include this town in its examinations. Strathmore, therefore, has been the nearest local center for Canadian Academy examinations, which are admittedly the most exacting available in the Dominion, carrying with them the highest artistic standard for the pupil at each step of their musical progress. The value of musical examinations at suitable intervals is now universally recognized, and in consequence the standard of musicianship efficiency in the average student is raised proportionately. The old haphazard, almost slipshod methods of instruction in music are fast disappearing, and even the tiniest child is now encouraged to attain to a high standard in accuracy, rhythm, reading, etc.

Canada is growing musically, and the growth made by music in the west is especially evident. It is indeed well that with material progress we progress in the fine arts also.

The Canadian Academy with headquarters at Toronto, conducts yearly examinations in music, with the foremost musicians in the land as examiners, in every city from the Atlantic to the Pacific, in every branch of music. The examiner for the west this summer will be Dr. Wolfman, who is also superintendent for the Saskatchewan Musical Festival. He is on the directorate of the Toronto Academy, is conductor of the Toronto Symphony orchestra, is a piano teacher of the first rank, and a composer, and withal has a most charming and genial personality. Dr. Wolfman will not stay as the examiner here, we understand, as the Musical Directorate take it in turn to make these arduous examining tours, the examination lists including thousands of names. W. O. Forsyth, one of the first exponents of quartette piano playing, as we are told, standing to undertake it in Canada, who is also a composer of music; Percy C. Kennedy, pianist, organist, choir leader, theorist, with a personality that would reassure even "the littlest girl" candidate; Dr. Ham, organist and choir master of St. James Cathedral, leader of great choral efforts, an author of classics in theory, harmony, etc.; Dr. Brian McMillan, whose chief in competing, while imprisoned in a German internment camp, a sonata, which entitled him to his degree of Music Doctor (Cant.). These five directors take the examining trips in turn, and their visits will undoubtedly give great inspiration and encouragement to local teachers of music in and about Strathmore, and through the west generally. With the high standards set by the Academy, our young music students may feel that their efforts are in some purpose, and that the certificates and diplomas which they receive through successfully passing the examinations of the Canadian Academy of Music, carry with them the highest assurance of musical efficiency and prestige that it is possible for students to obtain on this continent.

Smilin' Charlie Says—

They ain't no better way 't test fit n'ettle of 't average young man these days than 't give him a flapper 't keep entertained.

How to Kill Your Local Organization

Don't come to the meetings, if you come, come late. If the weather don't suit you do not think of coming. If you do come to the meeting (just) faint with the work of the members and officers. Never accept an office as it is easier to criticize than to do things. Nevertheless, get here if you are not appointed on a committee, but if you are, do not attend committee meetings. If asked by the chairman to give your opinion on some important matter tell him you have nothing to say. After the meeting tell everybody how things out to be. Hold back your dues as long as possible, or don't pay at all. Don't bother about getting new members. Let the secretary do it. Do nothing more than is absolutely necessary, but, when other members roll up their sleeves and willingly, unselfishly, use their ability to help matters along, hint that the association is run by a clique.

When a banquet is given, tell everybody that money is being wasted in flowers, which make a big noise and accomplish nothing. When no banquets are given say that the association is dead and need a can rest to it. Don't ask for a banquet ticket till all are sold. Then swear you've been cheated out of yours.

If you do get a ticket, don't pay for it. If asked to sit at the speaker's table, refuse modestly.

When you attend a meeting vote to do something and then go home and do the opposite.

Agree to everything said at the meeting and disagree outside.

When everything else fails, abuse the secretary.

PAGE OF RECENTLY ARRIVED NEW COMERS TO CANADA

To fill Canada's need for domestic workers, these English ladies crossed the Atlantic on the "Metagama."

With the exception of the chaplain, the members of this little group, come to Canada recently to enter domestic service. They're all engaged.

You may count fifteen young ones, however, is noted below the nursery at the Canadian Pacific for travelling mothers.

George Robb, of Antwerp, with his wife and six children, have now located at Brandon, Man.

This mother wanted her sons and daughters to grow up in a land of opportunity. She migrated to Canada therefore, from the Western Isles.

Miss Tremaine, King's nurse, probably found children at St. John more entrancing than their parents.

Youngst Rebekah, photo this "First Mother's Evening" as they also among the first they are leaving for Canada.

and have a hawk with her over the telephone and after talking about things that for a while I let her did she care very much for me. I didn't just say yes, no,
nor did she say yes,
no. She simply said
"Hi, Ho, Ho."

Saturday—well as far as I was concerned man went and spent a perfectly good ball game today. The game was tied and was team at the bats in the last 1/2 of the ninth.
2 men was out and I was at the bat with 2 men on bases. I was coming waiting up and let me run rim off and take my bath on seat, we was a going away. I tried to argue with her but it wasn't with me. I had to go. We left with the game. So I guess it wasn't much wonder that most of we children is unsatisfied with our parents.

Sunday—well I walked home from Sunday school with John and her was as in so in a state of deep sleep. And which I excepted the invasion. And I saw some thing that made a thrill cum up in my hat. I guess she still continues to think lots of me as I seen she had my picture hanging up by the side of Teddy. Which is her favorite doll.

Monday—Mrs. Elmer's daughter is going to get married and some of the young ladies and they was a party. I gave her a shower. Mrs. Elmer and they didn't need to mind because she had a old fashioned ring and didn't need no new fancy stuff and every day she didn't mind but very few Saturday night balls she was graduated away from out of school.

Tuesday—Well it was kinda home some for John and me. He had was going to bed early. I wasn't invited to the party neither. So we was both fed tired we went to bed and a good night rest.

Wednesday—I heard one in telling Mrs.
Gillespie she is happy with pa where ever he goes. Well she doesn't let him go no place where she wouldn't be happy.

Thursday—It and me bought me a new birth day present. It was 1 of those kind of things which is called on there hat. I guess it is named a
